of all the people in my past

faces in a waking dream though they never seemed to sing

there are faces i remember from the places in my past i said all the dead head miles and the insincere smiles sometimes i can laugh and cry and i can't remember why

but i still
love
those
good
times
gone by hold on to them
close or
let them
go

i don't know i just seem to sing these songs
and say i'm sorry for the friends i used to know — james taylor

One Who Cares

She's filled with warmth
of a gold summer's day, a smile of understanding greets hundreds every day.

At first, meeting her
was a frightening thing for as Freshmen we were shaky, afraid of anything.

But with the passing of time in a familiar place and known faces, this woman has shown compassion and love's kind embraces.

The Dean is the title
she has been given,
But really she is a mother
to at least a million.

— Kimi Jackaway

We, the class of nineteen hundred
and seventy-two,
gratefully
dedicete our
yearbook to mrs.
margaret corr for
her constant
devotion and
guidance and for
her kind attention
to all our problems, both
personal and
academic.
Hopefully our
tribute will display
our degree of appreciation.

The calm grey mist
hangs
 warm
over this peaceful passenger
of a thousand ages
A trainride through
all that was,
 is,
 and will be
smiling sweetly
feeling all in the still
 of a
 life gone

So
Now a peaceful
 candlelit sigh
of rest
the slow, lulling Whisper
of time forever;
nestled in the warm hand
of sleep perpetual.

There Are Some Men

There are some men
who should have mountains to bear their names to time.

Grave-markers are not high enough
or green,
and sons go far away
to lose the fist
their father's hand will always seem.

I had a friend:
he lived and died in mighty silence
and with dignity,
left no book, son or lover to mourn.

Nor is this a mourning-song but only a naming of this mountain on which I walk,
fragrant, dark, and softly white
under the pale mist.

I name this mountain after him.

class history

freshman year

As the doors opened for our first time, the halls were filled with Raggaedy Anns and Andys. Mark, Alice, Denise and Rosanne led the class in freshmen activities. Our creativity was displayed at our first pep rally with the theme Vote vs. Dragon Mouth. "Would you like to buy a magazine?" Was the cry heard throughout Berlin during the magazine drive. Wendy represented us in Lindsay's court. NEDT'S (what are they?) for our first time. We came to our second pep rally with "Freshmen come from Heaven." and the question "Whatever happened to our trophy?" The fashion then was bell bottoms and monkey boots. We ended the year with the Senior Farewell "Those were the Days" and a red rose for every senior girl.

And Mrs. Burgio now. Once again? Joey joined Mark, Rosanne and Denise to head the class. The sophomore chefs cooked up a storm with "Lets cook Montville" as our theme for the pep rally. Our next attendant was Lorie. NEDT'S one more time. Class clowns reigned at the Carnival Dance. We proved our school spirit with petitions, petitions, petitions. A liberated dress code for girls. Wire rimmed glasses became the newest fashion. We lost Mrs. Burgio

junior year

And gained Mrs. Micklos. "Mole" and Laurene joined Mark and Joey as class officers. We followed the red and blue brick road to win at the Wizard of Oz Pep rally. Our junior attendant was Barb. Mary Lou reigned at Camelot's court on a snowy December 12. The junior dance was followed by the Kuder Occupational Tests. ("What!! me a Florist?") SAT'S came next. Unification of students led to smoking lounges. The end of June brought the beginning of our Senior year.

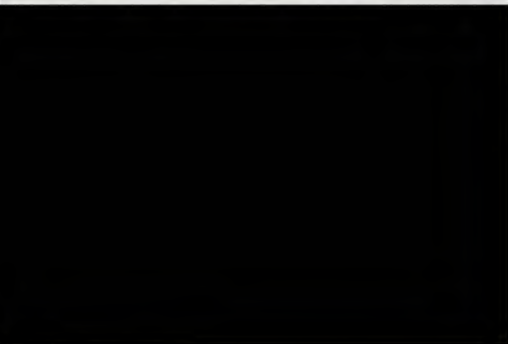

senior year

The "Sheik" seniors led the longest morning motorcade ever. The cowboys and Indians hoped to win the Northwest conference with "Wampum, wampum, we're gonna stomp 'em". Initiation became orientation with Kevin and Mary presiding over the unsuspecting Freshmen. (Remember Senior song, tricycles, wedding and the pit.) Casino '72 became the hot spot at the Berlin Fair. Hotdogs, coffee, soda and popcorn at the Senior concession built up our treasury.

Little Joe cartwheels into the presidency with Kevin and Tom, "Mole" and Barb. Senior privileges were now in effect. Alice as queen and Nancy as her attendant brought beauty to the homecoming festivities. College boards and applications turned our thoughts to the future. "I'm dreaming of a Berlin victory" at our next pep rally. Hair and swollen knees won Dave Silver his title of "Mr. Ugly Legs, 1972."

"I am me, and
nothing more —
free me from your inhibitions and expectations."

At last, to be identified!
At last, the lamps upon thy side
The rest of Life to see!

Past Midnight! Past the Morning Star!
Past Sunrise!

Ah, what leagues there were Between our feet, and Day!

— Emily Dickinson

Compliments of the Berlin High Student Council

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased from 10.5 million to 12.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over has increased from 4.5 million to 6.5 million (Office for National Statistics 2000).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of older people in the community. The Department of Health (1999) has published a strategy for older people, which sets out a vision for the future of older people's services. The strategy is based on the following principles: older people should be able to live independently in their own homes; older people should be able to participate in the community; and older people should be able to access the services they need.

The strategy also sets out a number of objectives for the future of older people's services. These include: to improve the quality of life of older people; to reduce the number of older people who are in care homes; to increase the number of older people who are employed; and to increase the number of older people who are active in the community. The strategy also sets out a number of measures that will be taken to achieve these objectives.

One of the measures that will be taken is to increase the number of older people who are employed. This will be done by encouraging employers to employ older people and by providing training and support for older people who are looking for work. Another measure that will be taken is to increase the number of older people who are active in the community. This will be done by providing opportunities for older people to participate in community activities and by providing support for older people who are looking for activities to get involved in.

The strategy also sets out a number of measures that will be taken to improve the quality of life of older people. These include: to improve the housing of older people; to improve the transport of older people; and to improve the health of older people. The strategy also sets out a number of measures that will be taken to reduce the number of older people who are in care homes. These include: to increase the number of older people who are living in their own homes; to increase the number of older people who are living in care homes; and to increase the number of older people who are living in care homes.
